IT'S STUCK

The Petty's have three great children, but their newest edition, Evelyn, has a little trouble with the word stuck. She thinks a lot of things are stuck that are not really stuck at all. If whatever she wants at the time does not come easily into her hand it is stuck and she does not like things that are stuck!

I share the same feeling. There is almost nothing worse than being stuck. Whether it is in traffic, in a dead end job, or in a rut, being stuck is not the place to be. How many of us would describe our Christian walk as stuck? If you don't feel that way now you probably have at one point or another. When you do feel stuck it is easy to get upset. Easy to become critical or disparaging. But rather than sliding into despair or cynicism, which will not help one become unstuck from a spiritual malaise, we must do something about it.

Ephesians 4:11 lists gifts given the church to help equip all the saints for the work of service. Those given these gifts have a responsibility to do this work, to prepare the saints for whatever work is to be done and to help the body mature in love. This in turn helps the body show love to the world.

Ultimately, of course, we are personally accountable for our relationship with God. Figuring out your SHAPE can help your spiritual life immeasurably. Knowing your Spiritual Gift, where your Heart lies for ministry, while also adding in your Abilities, your Personality, and your Experiences to get a more complete picture of your spiritual life is a tool we hope to offer you all. If you feel stuck, maybe this can help. If you feel like we at Puyallup are in a rut, perhaps this can get us moving. Let's make Puyallup a place where all can feel "unstuck" in their spiritual journey.

Finding Something To Be Thankful For

A minister was known for always thanking God in his public prayers. One Sunday morning was particularly terrible and gloomy. A church member thought to himself, "Certainly the preacher won't thank God for such a terrible day." When the preacher got up and began to pray, he said, "We thank Thee, O God, that every day is not always like this."

Anyone can be thankful when life is good. It really takes some effort to be thankful when life is difficult. Being thankful is a practiced skill. It's a mindset we have to constantly work on. When we do, we are likely to find many, many wonderful parts of our lives to give thanks for, especially the small ones we take for granted. First Thessalonians 5:16-18 says "Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; in everything give thanks; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus."

God wants us to be thankful people. Finding something to be thankful for may take some time, it may take some creativity, and it may even send us into deep thought. No matter what it takes, let's practice the habit of being thankful.
