An Inward Faith

Some people have become so comfortable in their spiritual lives that they basically exist as functional deists. Their entire faith is based on outward action but no inward faith. Their faith is found in attendance and not presence. Its body but no heart and soul.

In the end, they are simply well-dressed corpses - dead to the real-life bringing joy found in true faith.

They have become their own salvation and god. And they make terrible gods - mainly because no one else actually realizes that they are one.

It's time to step on some toes, sweet Christian. Not in anger or resentment - but in the power of the life-bringing gospel of Jesus Christ!

It's time to admit that there are many who are currently struggling with faking their way through Christianity - as if anyone could actually fool God - and call these found in their own "comforts" to repentance and the newness of life found in a true relationship with Jesus.

We must love those who "attend" each week enough to say, "Enough is enough. It's time to dive into the deep end of faith."
