Faith Stakes Everything on God's Word Alone

Who do you trust enough to take a risk for? Today we tend to avoid risk by having lengthy contracts that spell out every possibility in order to lessen the risk of someone not keeping their word. The list of people that any of us would risk everything for is probably very short.

In Hebrews 11:7 we learn from Noah that faith means taking God at His word even when we do not understand His plan. "By faith Noah, being warned by God about things not yet seen, in reverence prepared an ark for the salvation of his household, by which he condemned the world, and became an heir of the righteousness which is according to faith" (NASB). Noah had never seen a flood, but he trusted God enough to spend many years building a ship for an event that had never occurred before. Noah was willing to take God at His word alone and it led to salvation for his household.

We have never seen heaven, but we are called to prepare by living in obedience to God so we can go there. We have never seen Jesus, but we are called to prepare for His return by living by a different standard than the rest of the world. How we live depends on whether we are really willing to take God at His word.
