

Refuge in Christ Ministries: A message from Clio:

Some may not know Clio Eldred. He is a brother in long standing and a preacher to those in jails and prisons for over 30 years. He has been doing this for a number of years despite his physical problems, and the time it takes to get ready to visit the prisons.

At one time, he was music director at Magic Valley Christian College in Albion, ID. He has recorded a CD called "Amazing Grace." It is difficult for him to worship on Sundays, having to get up about 3 am to get ready.

He will be having an Event-Reunion, a Christian Ministry Workshop on April 25, 2015. If you are interested, please call the Bellevue Church for times and directions (425-454-3863). Others involved in this work are Don Oelzle, Dave Shaner, David Griner, Robert Henton and Bobby Lumpkin.

This is an on-going work with many inmates being immersed into Christ over the years. We here at Puyallup help in the support at $225.00 per month. There are some fliers in the foyer if you are interested in more information. If you are interested in separate support, please contact Hugh Kile.

Old and Young

When I told my kids I started off with black and white TV with only rabbit ears, they did not understand. The idea that there were so few channels seemed to amaze them as well. When I also told them my first computer was a Commodore 64 and that I had to connect it to the TV they were shocked.

I am sure when my parents told me stuff like that I had that same crazy, "how did you ever live without indoor plumbing and electricity?" look on my face too. The new almost always is supposed to be an improvement on the old, isn't it? What happens when the new no longer works? Are we to go back to the old, the antiquated, and the old-fashioned? May it never be!

But the old is exactly what we may need right now. According to some researchers, an old cure is doing what new fangled antibiotics cannot. Commenting on a cure found in Bald's Leechbook for 10th century eye infections:

"Copper and bile salts can kill bacteria, and the garlic family of plants make chemicals that interfere with the bacteria's ability to damage infected tissues." When they performed their tests, they "were absolutely blown away by just how effective the combination of ingredients was." They used fresh ingredients according to the original instructions and exposed populations of Staphylococcus aureus, the antibiotic-resistant bacteria MRSA, to the potion both in lab cultures and on infected wounds in mice. It obliterated the MRSA, killing 999 out of 1,000 bacterial cells."<sup>1</sup>

That reminds me of something else that is old and saving lives. The Bible! Some say it's too old to be relevant, it couldn't possibly have anything to do with what is going on in the world today. One day someone may come up with a problem that can't be solved by any new philosophy or maybe they just don't make an app for that and they will have to turn to something old. Something tried and true. Reminds me of a song,

*Holy words long preserved for our walk in this world,
They resound with God's own heart
Oh, let the Ancient words impart.*

*Words of Life, words of Hope
Give us strength, help us cope
In this world, where e'er we roam
Ancient words will guide us Home.*

Robert
