Walking with God in a Fallen World

God's desire from the very beginning of creation was to walk with man. Scripture tells us that He would walk in the garden in the cool of the day (Gen. 3:8). This was all undone when sin entered the world and created a chasm between God and mankind.

The theme of the Bible is the salvation of man, through Christ, to the glory of God. From the moment sin entered the world, God has been proactive in seeking a relationship with His creation. Through the perfect sacrifice of Christ, that relationship has been restored, and we are once again able to walk with God.

Even though we have peace with God again, at times it feels like we don't have peace in our everyday lives. We turn on the news and watch as courthouses are set on fire, and a widespread virus continues to harm and kill people that we love. Yes, we have peace with God, but where is the peace in our own lives?

These are questions that most everyone has asked. But there's one question I want us to focus on for a few moments; how does God want us to react to the events that are going on today? Let's examine three encouraging verses that tell us how we are to conduct ourselves each day.

Proverbs 15:3. "The eyes of the Lord are in every place, keeping watch on the evil and the good." God sees the violence, the grieving families, the struggling Christian. But God also sees how His children respond. God is in every part of His creation, at every moment in time. We may feel like He doesn't see, or that He is indifferent to what's going on, but His eyes are on the evil and the good. We respond in love because we know that God is watching.

Psalms 23:4. "Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me." God not only sees what is going on, but He is with His children. The greatest of Christians still struggle with feelings of loneliness (Elijah in 1 Kings 19). Even though we walk through the shadow of death, we don't fear the evil that we encounter because God has promised that He will be with us. We may see the hate, the hurt and the helplessness of mankind, but the comfort of God gives hope to His people.

Matthew 28:20. "...And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age." This is a promise first given by Jesus to His apostles, a promise that we as Christians sometimes fail to remember. The world isn't perfect because sin has corrupted what God has made perfect. People will do you wrong, they'll hurt you, and they'll do whatever they feel like doing. We have a command to fulfill, and it can only be carried out with the presence of God.

Showing love to a world that's full of hatred can seem impossible at times, but if we will remember who we are and Who's we are, we can and will get it done. Remember that God loves you, and the church loves you. Let's be an example to those who are without this love.
