Bear One Another's Burdens

Many people walk around each day with anxieties and stresses that others do not realize. It has been said that everyone is fighting a battle that no one else knows about.

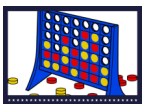

When we walk into church each week, there is always someone who is struggling. At some point each of us has probably come to the assembly with a real need for being built up. Paul told the Galatian churches to "carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ" (Gal. 6:2, NIV). It is much easier to face the difficulties that come our way when we know that we have others to help us through. This requires that we be willing and ready to both lean on others when we need help and ready to be there for others when needed.

God has designed the church as a place of strengthening and encouragement. If you are struggling, you do not have to deal with it alone, share it with a trusted brother or sister. If you know that a brother or sister is struggling, consider how you can help make their load a little easier to bear. Our taking care of one another is one of the best ways that we can fight together against our common enemy and stand strong in Christ.
