Lessons from an Automobile

Fred was having some difficulties with his vehicle and was seriously considering buying one that was brand new. He went to see a friend who worked at the local car dealership. When he told him that he wanted to trade his vehicle in for a newer one, his friend asked, "I thought you loved that car, so why are you willing to trade it now?" Fred responded, "It gives me nothing but trouble and it's no longer a joy to drive; won't steer, wobbles down the road, can't see when it rains, and the gas mileage is terrible."

His friend was curious because Fred had a very nice car, so he asked if the mechanic could look at it to check it over for its trade value. The mechanic came back an hour later with the following report:

- Replaced old power steering belt and added fluid
- Balanced, rotated, and properly inflated tires
- Replaced worn windshield wiper blades
- Replaced clogged air filter

The friend did not tell Fred what he had done to his car, but made him an appointment for the next day to test drive some new cars. On his way home, Fred was astonished...his car drove as good as new! He called his friend to cancel his appointment, and he was told what had been done to his vehicle.

We are very much like Fred. We often don't put much into the maintenance of the church, and as a result, we often lose our joy and are ready to trade it for another, when all we need to do is take proper care of what we've got right in front of us!

The most important thing we can do to help the church is to be a fully-functioning member who works in conjunction with the other members (I Corinthians 12:14-27).
