I Need To Be There!

Someone once said, "When a fellow claims he can worship as well out in the open country, or at the beach as he can at church, it seems that he probably feels no particular urge to worship at all." Several years ago I invited an older gentleman to come back to worship with us on the next Lord's Day and his reply was, "I do my praying at home!" I guess by "praying" he meant worship. Can one worship in his home? Absolutely! But is that where the rest of the assembly is too? Not only are we commanded to assemble together to worship God every week, but we NEED to be there! In this chaotic world we live in, we as Christians need the encouragement of being together as often as possible.

- I need to be there because God is there and He is worthy of my time, my adoration and my praise.
- I need to be there because the Word of God is being taught and God's word encourages me, pricks my heart, changes me and fills my cup.
- I need to be there because I have work to do there. A class needs to be taught, a prayer needs to be said, someone needs my encouragement, or a precious older widow needs my hug.
- I need to be there because the Bible study subject is just the lesson I need to cope with a situation in my life.
- I need to be there because a visitor came that knows me and now plans on attending again.

Cont'd

- I need to be there because I am missed by others when my pew is empty.
 - I need to be there because fellowshiping with other saints brings me great encouragement.
 - I need to be there because my children will do what I do because, “the best way to train up a child in the way he should go is to travel that way yourself.”
 - I need to be there because I am a part of God’s great family! Worship is, indeed, primarily for God. But, as we can see, coming to worship does a great deal for the worshipper. May we have the attitude about worship like that of David when he said, “How lovely is Your tabernacle, O Lord of hosts! My soul longs, yes, even faints for the courts of the Lord; My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God” Psalm 84:1-2. When God is worshipped, our souls will be blessed! I need to be there!
