Jesus is our Creator

It is not uncommon to have to troubleshoot an appliance, the car, or some other device we use on a regular basis. While dealing with these things can be frustrating, we all know where to turn when such an issue arises – the owner's manual. The owner's manual is the manufacturer's source of information and is the best way to solve problems that come up with the things we use. When we consult the designer and builder, we tend to get the best solution to our problem.

We also deal with problems in life that are social, personal, or with family members. The same solution is true for us just as it is for our tools – consult the maker. Paul says of Jesus that "by Him all things were created, both in the heavens and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions (cont.) or rulers or authorities – all things have been created through Him and for Him” (Col. 1:16, NASB95). Although our lives get off track sometimes, our Creator has given us His word that tells us who we are designed to be and how to solve many of the problems we face.

Because Jesus is our Creator, He understands us better than we even understand ourselves, so we would do well to regularly read what He has given us in His word. Take time this week to read from God’s word. It is the only way to really understand who you are designed to be and how you are designed to operate.
